

Invitation to:
Radioimmunotherapy in malignant
Lymphoma –
Symposium and Workshop

Dear colleagues and friends,

It's a special pleasure for us to invite you to the old university town of Göttingen for a symposium and workshop on radioimmunotherapy in malignant lymphoma. We are certain that you are aware of the importance and potential benefit of this exciting new strategy for patients with malignant lymphoma. The aim of this international workshop is to bring together nuclear medicine specialists and oncologists for a fruitful discussion the benefits and pitfalls of this therapy. Internationally renowned experts from the USA and Europe have agreed to present their data and to attend the workshop discussions. The major concepts (high and low dose radioimmunotherapy, Yttrium-90 and I-131 nuclides) will be presented by those who have initiated and conducted the pivotal trials. We are therefore certain that you will find the program interesting and look forward to welcoming you to Göttingen. The symposium is organized by oncologists and nuclear medicine specialists from the Universities of Munich, Marburg and Göttingen who have initiated a German trial in relapsed B-cell lymphoma patients. The symposium will take place at the Georg August University of Göttingen, the old and traditional university in the middle of Germany. We are sure you will enjoy the atmosphere of this medieval university town and wish you a good trip to Göttingen.

For the organizers
